Berne, August 7.

THE Dyet of the Eight Old Cantons that continued at Frawenfelt after the Separation of the General Dyet, broke up last Week, and the Deputies of the Three Cantons of Zurich, Berne, and Glaris, who are Sovereigns of the County of Baden, are now assembled at the City of that Name, to dispatch such Affairs as regard those Three Cantons in common, after which they will return to their respective Homes. They have resolved in this Session at Baden, that their Bailiff, who resides there, shall for the future assist at the Council of that City on the Election of all Officers depending upon the Magistrates, for the better maintaining the Peace, which is often violated upon such Occasions. However it appears that this Resolution is not at all pleasing to the Magistracy of that Place, and is looked upon as a Novelty, and a kind of Infraction of their Privileges. The Deputies of this Canton are still in Conference at Morat with those of Fribourg, for adjusting the Limits of the Two States, which is a Matter that has been in dispute for near a hundred Years together. It is thought things will be finally determined by the Care and Application of the present Commissioners on both Sides. Letters from Coire of the 27th past, give an Account of a Difference of some Moment that has been on foot above a Year, between the Community of Schoultz in the Lower Engadine, and the Regency of Inspruck. The latter having formed some Pretensions upon a Forrest which the aforesaid Community has possessed for above an Age without Molestation, the Imperial Envoy Baron de Greuth, some Commissioners from Inspruck, and certain Deputies of the Grisons, met last Autumn upon the Confines to examine the Titles of both Parties, and to endeavour to adjust this Difference amicably; but that Conference was ineffectual, and nothing else could be agreed upon but to leave Matters in the Situation they found them without any Alteration, till such Time as the Business should be better examined in another Conference. In the mean Time the Inhabitants of Schoultz disliking these Delays, and being perswaded that the Regency of Inspruck had raised a Pretension that was altogether new and unwarrantable, resolved in a tumultuous manner to make use of their Rights, and went to the Forrest in a Body, where they cut down about 7000 great Trees, engaging mutually to each other by a formal Oath to maintain the Possession of the Forrest, and to defend one another with their Lives and Goods. Hereupon Baron Greuth made great Complaints of this Disorder to the Heads of the Leagues, declaring to them that if they did not put an immediate Stop to these Violences, the Regency of Inspruck would take such Measures as they should judge proper. Orders were sent thereupon by the Chiefs to the People of Schoultz to forbid them to carry off the Wood they had cut, but it is doubted whether they will respect such Orders, because they are enraged to see those Rights disputed which they have possessed Time out of Mind.
